ETHICS AND ANTI-CORRUPTION IN ORGANIZATIONS MANAGEMENT TRAINING

Introduction

Integrity, transparency, and ethical leadership are fundamental pillars of sustainable institutions. Across both public and private sectors, corruption and unethical practices undermine governance systems, distort markets, weaken institutions, and erode public trust. This executive five-day programme provides a comprehensive exploration of ethical governance frameworks and anti-corruption strategies used by leading international institutions, including the United Nations Convention Against Corruption (UNCAC), Transparency International standards, and OECD anti-corruption frameworks. Participants will gain practical knowledge on building ethical organizational cultures, strengthening accountability mechanisms, designing anti-corruption policies, and implementing effective reporting and investigation systems. The course emphasizes preventive approaches to corruption risk management, ethical leadership, and institutional transparency. Through case studies from governments, multinational corporations, and international development agencies, the programme provides participants with tools to design ethical governance systems that meet global integrity standards and support long-term institutional sustainability.
